What is Money Follows the Person (MFP)?

Vaya Health manages the statewide MFP Transition Coordination Program on behalf of the North Carolina Department of Health and Human Services. The program helps older adults and people with physical disabilities move out of a facility and into the home setting of their choice.

How can I get involved?

Some MFP participants may need home modifications to help them live independently. To meet their needs, Vaya is partnering with licensed, insured builders who have a passion to help improve the lives of people in our local communities.

Vaya is here for you, every step of the way. Email us today at mfp@vayahealth.com to get started.

We're thrilled you're thinking about working with our program to help make homes more accessible for the people who need it most.
